• PNC opposes PNP registration by EC

By Albert K. Salia

THE 'in-fighting' among members of the People's National Convention (PNC) has taken a new twist as they battle to prevent the formation of a new political party, the People's National Party (PNP).

The battle for the soul of the

PNC started after the 2020 general election, resulting in a group led by the then General Secretary, Janet Nabla, declaring the party's flag bearer, David Apasera, and its Chairman, Moses Dani Baah, persona non grata for alleged misappropriation of party funds.

However, the Janet Nabla-led group later applied to the Electoral Commission (EC) to register a new political party, the PNP, with the palm tree as its emblem.

Upon PNP's receipt of a provisional certificate, the PNC — writing through its lawyers, Sory@Law — petitioned the EC
